

Harvester Is Named UK's Best Family Restaurant Two Years In A Row

Monday 14 April, 2014

Harvester Restaurants is celebrating after being named the UK's best family restaurant for the second year running by leading baby charity Tommy's.

Harvester, which has 212 of restaurants across the UK, learnt of its success after the national baby charity announced the winners of its 19th Tommy's Awards at an annual ceremony held at the Landmark Hotel in London.

The Tommy's Baby-Friendly Awards acknowledge the organisations that make a real difference to families' lives all over the UK, meeting their everyday needs and more.

Amanda Rigby, marketing manager for Harvester, said: "The Tommy's Baby-Friendly Awards has set the benchmark for companies in the UK, and we are delighted and honoured to have been named Best Family Restaurant again.

"Harvester has invested in ensuring that our offer and our Young Guest menu meets the needs of families and we are continually developing this to ensure we deliver a truly stress free and enjoyable experience. It is testament to the hard work by all our staff across the country that we have been named winners of this year's award for the second year running and we will continue to work hard to ensure families are at the heart of everything we do."

Harvester is famous for specialising in tasty spitroast chicken and slow cooked ribs all with the unlimited free salad and is ideal for the whole family. It also has a Young Guest menu perfect for children of all ages.

Freshly prepared main courses on Harvester's menu start at just £4.99 which including unlimited free salad. The menu gives guests the option of picking their own grill, sauce and side with over 1,500 combinations to choose from.
