Huntress achieves ISO 9001:2015 certification

UK recruitment company, Huntress Search Limited, has achieved certification to the internationally recognised ISO 9001:2015 standard, establishing it as one of the leading service providers in its field.

This independent assessment was conducted by the British Assessment Bureau, a leading certification body and demonstrates Huntress' commitment to customer service and quality in delivery. Huntress Search Ltd has now earned the right to display the coveted British Assessment Bureau quality shield and ISO 9001:2015 logo to demonstrate its conformance to the standard.

ISO 9001 was first introduced in 1987 and requires organisations to demonstrate that they do what they say they do, and that they have a Quality Management System in place to ensure consistency and improvement; leading to high levels of performance and customer satisfaction. Certified organisations are committed to continuous improvement and are assessed to ensure progress is being maintained.

Huntress' Operations Director, Henry Beck, said: "We're delighted to have achieved ISO9001:2015 certification as it underlines our commitment to our customers and reinforces our focus on quality. This award confirms that our processes and procedures represent best practice, having been formally audited, and evaluated against the internationally recognised standard for quality management."

The benefits of certification to ISO 9001 include:

- Streamlining an organisation's procedures;
- Bringing consistency to an organisation's service delivery;
- Reducing cost and rework;
- Improving an organisation's management practices;
- Enhanced status and competitive advantage;
- Lower insurance premiums.

THE BRITISH ASSESSMENT BUREAU

The British Assessment Bureau's reputation was established in 1969 as a specialist in certification scheme management. In 1997, the Secretary of State for Trade and Industry approved the use of the word 'British' in their title, in recognition of their pre-eminent status.

Today, they certify organisations to recognised standards, including ISO 9001 (quality management), ISO 14001 (environmental management), ISO 27001 (information security management) and OHSAS 18001 (occupational health and safety management). They also design and manage bespoke assessment schemes. Such schemes are based on the establishment of standards, which can be developed to be recognised company-wide, industry-wide, nationally, or internationally.
