

Independent title Walt & The Magical Bee presented at London and Bologna international book fairs

Wednesday 15 April, 2026

LONDON, UK — Walt & The Magical Bee is an original illustrated story created by artist and author Cristina Cargasacchi, founder of the independent creative studio Goldenhive Productions, based in Southall, London.

Following its participation at the London Book Fair 2026, the project was also presented at the Bologna Children's Book Fair 2026, where it was included in the Foreword Reviews collective exhibition—a curated showcase of selected independent titles presented to an international audience of publishers, agents, and creative industry professionals.

These presentations mark an important step in introducing the project within an international publishing and creative context.

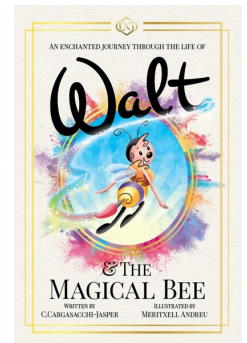

Inspired by the life and creative spirit of Walt Disney, Walt & The Magical Bee is a lyrical illustrated story for both children and adults, with early-stage ideas for adaptation into audiobook, film, and stage. It is an independent work, not affiliated with or endorsed by The Walt Disney Company.

Cristina Cargasacchi, a graduate of the Accademia di Belle Arti di Venezia, is an artist and author whose work has developed over time through her own creative path.

"I hope this story can keep growing and reach people in different ways," Cristina added.

Through Goldenhive Productions, Cristina continues to create across publishing, visual, and performance formats, with Walt & The Magical Bee at the centre of this journey.
