

Introducing PHOTO CRUISES, a new kind of photography holiday. Learn photography on a cruise.

Tuesday 10 December, 2013

Photo Cruises are celebrating their launch. Their schedule of inspiring 2014 photography workshops on cruises are now on sale with an offer of £50 off any bookings made by January 31st 2014.

With the advancement of digital cameras in recent years, photography has become a popular hobby for many people. For those interested in taking their photography further by exploring their creative side and learning about the full potential of their camera, combining a holiday with learning photography is a great option. Even for those who are quite advanced with their photography skills, a photo cruise offers a fantastic chance to practice photography in a variety of inspiring locations with a tutor on hand for tips to improve.

The photo cruises are for anyone interested in photography, from beginners to experienced photographers. There will be expert tuition from a variety of onboard workshops, lectures and seminars, as well as hands-on tuition on location, and photography excursions.

Photo Cruises tutors are inspiring photographers with fantastic teaching skills. We are pleased to announce that travel photographer Kimberley Coole will be leading some 2014 workshops. Kimberley is one of the UK's top travel photographers and a finalist in Travel Photographer of the Year 2012.

'I am very excited to launch the 2014 Photo Cruises as each workshop offers something exceptional for aspiring photographers.

Not only will we provide hands on, in depth tuition by leading photographers but each day photographers will wake up in a new photographic location. Each location is thoroughly researched and will provide a variety of experiences. The variety of landscapes and cities you will visit on the cruise will enable aspiring photographers to expand their portfolio of images and practice a variety of photographic techniques.

The adventure of traveling by sea just adds to the experience and photographic opportunities that a land based holiday just can't offer. It is a unique experience!

The cruises have been carefully chosen for their itinerary and ship and many of the Photo Cruises include overnights or early and late docking in ports to get the most of sunlight time in port. There will also be some free time and you can participate in as much or little as you like.

2014 PHOTO CRUISES will include:

7 night Mediterranean voyage from Venice including Santorini, Mykonos, Kotor, Montenegro, Split, Croatia and Venice.

7 night Mediterranean cruise from Venice to Barcelona including Florence, Provence, Rome, Sorrento and Kotor.

7 night Baltic voyage from Copenhagen including Stockholm, Tallinn, St Petersburg and Helsinki.

7 night Norway fjords cruise from Copenhagen to Geiranger, Flam, Alesund and Bergen.

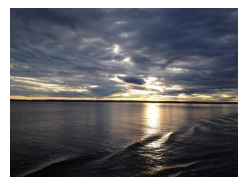

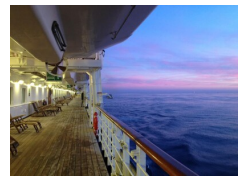

3 night taster photo cruise to Paris and Bruges from Southampton

The holidays are booked and operated by expert cruise travel agent 'Holidays and Cruises For You/ Cruise For Groups' so they are ABTA and ATOL bonded and Photo Cruises provide the photography workshops. Together their goal is to provide inspiring, creative, fun photography adventures.

2014 photo cruises are available to book now and if you book a place by the end of January you will get £50 off!

Photo Cruises welcome guests from all over the world, so please email info@photocruises.co.uk to enquire.
