

Intuita Appoints Andy McCann as Director of Engineering

Thursday 17 August, 2023

Intuita, one of the UK's leading data solutions and analytics providers, is pleased to announce that Andy McCann has joined the company as Director of Engineering, to lead and grow their data engineering offering.

The appointment of McCann comes at a time of significant growth for Intuita, looking to expand its core data engineering services across cloud migration, data infrastructure, data platforms, enterprise tooling and data cost management and monitoring. He brings with him extensive market experience in delivering enterprise scale data projects across finance, telco, and tech having worked in senior positions for Virgin Media, Thoughtspot, and Snowflake.

McCann's focus will be on continuing to develop Intuita's data engineering capabilities, delivering best-in-class enterprise data solutions, and ensuring Intuita continues to establish itself as one of the leading independent data companies.

Glenn Merritt, Managing Partner & Founder of Intuita. "Bringing in Andy is quite the coup for Intuita. He is someone that many of the leadership team have known (and coveted) for several years, so we are naturally delighted that its finally happened! He is a shining example of the Intuita values, he is incredibly passionate about extracting value from data, knows how to do it and has the respect of everyone he has ever worked with. I have known him since we were both starting our careers and am very excited what he can bring to Intuita and what he can achieve with the freedom he will get in his role"

Andy McCann, Director of Engineering, Intuita, commented, "It's an exciting time to be joining Intuita as it continues to grow and evolve. The chance to join the team and help grow the Data Engineering practice was the perfect challenge for me. After several exciting years in a role focused on technical pre and post-sales, I was ready to re-focus on delivery. I love to share ideas and debate on all things data and technology, and I enjoy collaborating with others to come up with creative, reliable and elegant solutions. I am excited to be working with our talented team to support our customers in getting the most from their data and data platforms."
