Investment team at Boundary Capital gets a boost with two new appointments

Tuesday 7 October, 2014

Investment firm Boundary Capital Partners LLP has appointed two new members of their Investment Team. Ernie Richardson joins as Chairman and Partner whilst Dr David Gee joins as Partner.

Ernie Richardson is a highly experienced venture capital investor with over 25 years in early stage technology businesses, and a personal background in engineering and finance. He also helped establish and led MTI Partners; one of the UK's leading VC firms specialising in early stage technology.

David Gee has over 20 years of industrial and venture capital experience in a range of sectors including automotive, electronics, IT and materials. Previously he was CEO of TTP Ventures, an early stage technology VC, where he had several successful realisations.

Boundary Capital's Managing Partner Dan Somers said: "Our team is crucial to the success of our portfolio and consequently our investors. The new appointments add even more strength and depth of venture experience to our team as we continue to grow our unique model for the benefit of our businesses and our investors."

Boundary Capital has a unique investment model which involves placing an industry expert, who is also an investor, within a business to provide support and expertise to help them meet their objectives fast and more efficiently.
