

iS Health Group partners with international children's charity

Monday 4 July, 2016

The international charity Hope for Children and iS Health Group, a leading UK-based healthcare communication agency, today announced an exciting new partnership to help vulnerable children living in Asia and Africa.

Vicki Livingstone, General Manager at iS Health Group, said "We are delighted to build this important partnership with Hope for Children, a fantastic charity that helps young people all around the world experience the childhood they deserve. Through our grant-giving division, the iS Foundation, we will be supporting projects ranging from HIV outreach clinics in Uganda to bursaries that enable disadvantaged families to access a Cancer Hospital in Sri Lanka."

Murielle Maupoint, the charity's Chief Executive, said "iS Health Group are helping us make a profound difference to children's lives through their support of our projects focusing on ensuring children and their families are healthy and have access to healthcare services. Good health is an essential part of a happy, healthy and positive childhood and with the support of iS Health we're going to make that a reality for hundreds of children."

Hope for Children is an international children's charity that believes every child deserves a childhood. Almost half of the world's children are vulnerable and living in poverty. Hope for Children are changing this by working with vulnerable children enabling them to experience a positive and happy childhood by improving their access to education and healthcare whilst empowering their families to support themselves.

iS Health Group is a leading healthcare communications agency located in Surrey that develop communication solutions that deliver improved outcomes and sustainable change to patients and the health service. In 2012 the group established the iS Foundation, a grant-giving charity that supports projects in healthcare and the local community.
