London, UK: JAAM Automation, an independent software provider of automation technologies and leading advisor to businesses primed for automation, are delighted to announce the signing of an exclusive distribution agreement with Monday Cloud (Pty) Ltd, to distribute their products in the UK and Ireland regions.

JAAM will draw on the many years of experience of their team in this space to bring to a wider market leading document and digital signature products from DocFusion.

According to jaam co-founder, Graham Penman “As we look at the challenges facing business globally, Document Generation and Digital signature technologies are more important than they have ever been before. Even in today’s technology rich world, more than 70% of all processes within organizations involve some form of document production and many of these are still produced manually, leading to compliance issues and serious inefficiencies. As such we are excited to share the capabilities and rich functionality of the of DocFusion product suite within the UK and Ireland markets”

Monday Cloud founder and CEO Rein van der Horst explains further “We at Mondaycloud back people, and the team at jaam are not only impressive as individuals, but their wealth of experience and track records, speaks volumes. We are excited about our partnership which is headed for great success”.

The team at JAAM Automation offer a variety of automation technology products with DocFusion fitting perfectly into their end-to-end automation stack and furthering their vision of turning ideas into automation success.
