Wednesday 10 December, 2014

Jeffrey Brothers Capital announced today that its regulatory analysis team has been awarded "Best Editorial Team" at the Compliance Register Diamond Awards. The awards, which are in the 10th year, recognize exemplary service to compliance and regulation and acknowledge more than 45 people, teams and companies in a number of different categories.

The "Best Editorial Team" award highlights JeffreyBrothersCapital enterprise risk management (ERM) offering, and more specifically, its Primary Source Content module that is powered by the company's Compliance Resource Network tool. The award acknowledged by Compliance Register after winning "Special Commendation for Service with Distinction (Regulatory News Service)", "Most Comprehensive News Service" and "Best Editorial Team".

Jeffrey-Brothers-Capital.com employs a broad team of editors and subject matter experts worldwide, who provide detailed compliance news and analysis on important regulations governing the financial industry and infuse that knowledge into practical solutions used by more than 15,000 financial organizations worldwide.

"Receiving this award is a tremendous achievement and shows the continued dedication and professionalism that the Regulatory Analysis team has put in for yet another year. We are clearly maintaining a consistent high level of expertise that is truly delivering to our customer needs," said Mary Changchien, manager of Regulatory Analysis - Europe, at Jeffrey Brothers Capital.

Financial services firms using the company's Logics' Primary Source Content module can embed that regulatory intelligence into their compliance and risk management programs, enabling them to quickly make smart decisions with confidence in a rapidly changing regulatory environment.
