John Weiss launches dedicated COVID-19 web page

Tuesday 12 May, 2020

Harlow, UK – 12th May 2020 - John Weiss & Son, the leading manufacturer and distributor of gold-standard ophthalmic micro-surgical instruments and procedures, has launched a new dedicated COVID-19 web page, in response to the global Coronavirus outbreak.

The COVID-19 web page contains a summary of company statements and helpful resources, which have been produced to support customers through the COVID-19 pandemic.

John Weiss has released an official statement on its business operations, which outlines how the company is safeguarding the health of employees and customers, while preserving the ability to operate and supply at this time. The page also includes NHS, Government and industry updates, including a list of useful web links.

The COVID-19 page also has tested and validated cleaning instructions for John Weiss instruments. These cleaning and sterilisation guidelines should be strictly followed and could help reduce the spread of the virus.

The COVID-19 web page is now live at https://jweiss.co/covid19resources. If you have any queries about the John Weiss response to the COVID-19 pandemic, please email sales@johnweiss.com.
