

JPSB Group Joins SimCorp Certification Partner Program

Wednesday 12 April, 2023

JPSB Group, a leading independent global financial technology consultancy to the investment management community, is proud to be recognised as a globally accredited SimCorp Professional Services Partner.

The fast-growing business, founded by Kiran Bhogal, enables investment firms to adapt, evolve and grow through the design and delivery of innovative IT solutions and to unlock the potential of their existing technology, leading to improved profitability, efficiency, and operational resilience.

Fred Bouteiller, Senior Vice President, Professional Services at SimCorp, says "JPSB partnering with us and utilizing the SimCorp Certification Program, which includes continuous access to knowledge via eLearnings, means that we at SimCorp can be assured that the JPSB consultants we engage with are fully capable of providing high quality and can deliver the best outcome for our clients."

Kiran Bhogal, CEO of JPSB Group, says "This is an important step in our deepening relationship with SimCorp. We are very grateful to Fred Bouteiller and his team for this important recognition of our long standing industry expertise and relentless focus on client satisfaction."

JPSB Group is now one of a select few acknowledged by SimCorp in this way which is a significant achievement. Our global business has grown considerably over the past few years, yet we remain dedicated to our strong company values of integrity, respect and endeavour. We always put our clients first and strive to exceed their expectations."
