

Keystone Property Group Expanding Their Network

Monday 12 August, 2019

UK based real estate investment firm Keystone Property Group, are one of the fastest growing businesses in the sector and looking to add to their global network.

Keystone Property Group have consistently delivered for their clients, with their investment recommendations awarding an average annual return of 19.4%, since 2016.

This year over three investment exits comprising projects in Manchester and South Yorkshire, investors have welcomed a cumulative return exceeding 60%.

Due to demand, Keystone Property Group are looking to form new partnerships with wealth managers, IFA's and investment families to introduce their products to investors looking for an alternative means of accessing the U.K. property market.

By joining Keystone Property Group's established network of investment and real estate professionals, members are given support through clear lines of communication and have an open environment for discussion, sharing ideas, and passing on information.

Full marketing material is provided to agents, alongside full training and support, while incentive bonuses are available for volume sales.

From there, they have the freedom to build their own client base, refer clients, and own territory to work within.

Desmond Conway, CEO of Keystone Property Group said: "We want to work with the best people and businesses from across the sector, and the way we do that is by making sure our goals align."

"I'm really proud of the team at Keystone, of the partnerships we've formed with developers, our relationships with domestic and overseas investors, and our expanding international network of real estate and investment professionals. Doors have been opened for all parties, and we want to continue to create valuable partnerships."
