Kinnect2 provides an instantaneous and effortless communication between Brands and Consumers. “We are giving consumers the power right at their fingertips to influence engage and share their voice,” Amina Nabi, CEO of Kinnect2. The app allows the consumers to play a vital role in the brand performance; the consumers can engage with the brand and will be rewarded for it. The influencer accelerator on the platform identifies the consumers with high engagement; the brands can select the influencers and reward them for sending the message across to a wider audience.

Brands and Consumers can sign up for free and set up their page and utilise multiple features. Kinnect2’s features vary for the different types of users. Kinnect2 is also the only Social Media Platform that is driven by consumers and offers brands to generate consumer insight reports using market research tools. The Market Research tools are instilled in the platform; such as groups, polls and battle of brands. To Motivate Consumers to engage with the brands, brands can offer the users Kinnect2 virtual currency, Kinnect Coins, all in all, this ensures increased engagement. Brands can also advertise on the platform using sponsored posts, displayed advertising and Influencer Advertising. Kinnect2 has made Influencer Advertising more accessible by placing them on the Leaderboard, a feature available for all users, through which they can be contacted instantaneously. Consumers can give opinions, reviews and feedback on a platform that is designed for the purpose and influence other consumers. They can engage with the brands and also use the chat which brands may use for Customer Support Service.

“Brands finally have a social marketplace where it’s not just about engagement. It’s about reimagined social media; the market research tools, the influencer advertising and the social commerce. We are proud also to be the first British owned Social Networking Platform and hope to grow in Britain.” Ebad Baig, CSO of Kinnect2. The Kinnect2 platform promises to deliver a social commerce solution in near future that would provide a virtual window for brands and consumers to shop online. When it materialises, online shopping for any consumer will become as easy as 1, 2, 3...
