

LemonBooking hand-picked by Xero for global "New & Noteworthy" collection

Tuesday 26 May, 2026

Swindon, UK — 26 May 2026 — LemonBooking, the booking, website and ticketing platform for community venues, has been hand-picked by Xero for its "New & Noteworthy" collection. The collection sits on the Xero App Store homepage in every region where Xero operates, putting LemonBooking in front of millions of Xero customers worldwide.

Xero's "New & Noteworthy" collection is curated by Xero's Platform Marketing team and is reserved, in Xero's words, for recently certified apps offering "something unique, innovative, or outstanding customer experiences." Inclusion is by invitation only.

For accountants and bookkeepers whose clients run village halls, community centres or sports facilities, the listing is a useful signal: LemonBooking has been independently assessed by Xero and is one of a small number of newly certified apps Xero is actively recommending this month. Apps featured in curated Xero collections typically see a significant uplift in listing views and trial sign-ups during their feature period.

LemonBooking has been a Xero-certified app since February 2026. The integration automatically pushes invoices and credit notes from LemonBooking into Xero for every booking, and payments reconciled in Xero are fed back to LemonBooking. For a village hall or community centre bookkeeper, that is hours of manual reconciliation each month saved.

"Being chosen by Xero is a real vote of confidence in what we've built," said Paul Grosvenor, co-founder of LemonBooking. "Xero looks at hundreds of apps each month, so to be picked out is a brilliant moment for the team and for the venues who've supported us. We built LemonBooking to take the friction out of running community venues — and we'd encourage any accountant with clients in this sector to take a look at the listing and get in touch if they'd like a walkthrough."
