Londoner Raffles £285,000 House for £2

Monday 13 November, 2017

Gazundered twice and just before contracts were due to be exchanged on her property, Miss Page takes her property off the market and decides to set up a competition for someone to win her house for just £2 after being inspired by the Win a Country House competition.

Her two bedroom detached house is a short walk from the Royal Arsenal site in Woolwich and close to what is one of the most exciting development areas in London called 'Woolwich Creative District', a £31 million arts investment area set to rival London's South Bank for arts and entertainment.

The new owner will have easy access to the Thames Clipper River Boat Service and the new Crossrail station. The property will be completely refurbished to suit the taste of the new owner with brand new kitchen, bathroom and landscaping. The competition can be entered via www.hyperexit.com
