Love chocolate? I’ve got something for you…

Tuesday 8 March, 2016

Dear Editor,

If you're a chocolate lover or a baking guru – I've got just the thing for you…

This April, I'm joining The Sick Children's Trust in its most chocola-tea fundraising event - Big Chocolate Tea. I'm inviting you to join me in enjoying a cuppa and a chocolate treat, while helping to raise lots of money to support families with seriously ill children in hospitals across the UK.

Host a Big Chocolate Tea party, cake sale or bake-off during the last week of April and donate the proceeds to The Sick Children's Trust. You can join in the Big Chocolate Tea fun at home, at work or at school, and with family, colleagues and friends. And what's more, The Sick Children's Trust will give you an exciting free pack to get you started! I've already got mine and have been practising my own showstopper bake to impress my weather colleagues.

So, what are you waiting for? Dust off your apron; crack those eggs and let's make a difference to thousands of families with sick children. By taking part in Big Chocolate Tea, you can keep them together with their sick child, as they face the most difficult times.

Request your free pack today at www.sickchildrenstrust.org/bigchoctea.

Sian Welby x

Channel 5 Weather Presenter

Media:

Related Sectors:

Charities & non-profits :: Children & Teenagers :: Food & Drink :: Health ::

Related Keywords:

Letters :: Chocolate :: Celebrity :: Charity :: Sick Children's Trust :: Fundraising :: Event :: National ::

Scan Me:

Company Contact: