

Mansions at Acqualina: an ultra-luxurious residential treasure of Sunny Isles Beach

Thursday 31 October, 2019

Mansions at Acqualina is a striking 47-story high-rise that stands out against the skyline of Sunny Isles Beach. Built-in 2014, this is a proud creation of the architects and interior designers from the Chateau Group and Kobi Karp architecture design firms, two of the most recognized names in the industry.

The project was inspired by a world-renowned Acqualina Resort and Spa, which is a member of The Leading Hotels of the World. It is the only resort in Miami area that has received a Five Diamond from AAA Travel, the notorious membership-only travel recourse. It is also a Fodor's Gold Award recipient, which honors the top sites, properties, and experiences around the world. Acqualina Resort and Spa is also listed among Andrew Harper's top beach and family resorts in Florida.
