Open any interiors magazine at the moment and you will spot the incredibly popular trend for statement photographs and posters which are hung as a focal point on the wall. However getting this look right depends on having the right tools for the job and leading expert Bosch has developed an innovative gadget, the Bosch PLR 15 (RRP £49.99), which is perfect for precise measurement.

More often than not, old fashioned methods such as tape measures and rulers give estimations and there is the potential for imprecise measurements. Inaccuracy can present big problems if you inadvertently drill or screw into the wrong place and could ruin the final result of your display. Using a digital measuring tool ensures there is no room for doubt and you'll get a precise measurement first time around – with an accuracy of +/- 3mm – so you can avoid making any holes in the wall by mistake.

The PLR 15 is also handy for measuring rooms and working out furniture arrangements. So, whether your finding the perfect position for your new sofa or planning a new fitted kitchen, be sure to measure up first time, every time.

Bosch measuring tools provide you with ultimate precision and reliability because one thing is certain – nothing is more precise than measuring with a laser. The Bosch PLR 15 is the perfect addition to your toolkit, measuring up to 15 metres at the touch of a button. Ergonomically designed, the PLR15 will ensure every shelf and picture frame is perfectly positioned before you finally secure everything in place. With a dimension of 10 x 3.6 cm and weighing just 80 grams, the small and compact instrument is easy to carry and can fit into your pocket.

Features

- Integrated laser technology to continually provide precise measurements
- A simple one-button function to allow for intuitive handling and ease of use
- The capability to measure anything up to 15m in length
- An easy-to-read display with additional backlighting
