#Bombyx makes it happen

The definition of libido is overall sex drive, performance and the desire for sexual activity.

Libido in men can be influenced by biological, emotional, psychological and social factors.

Low libido worries men far more than women.

Low libido is described as a decreased interest in sexual activity and the inability to perform.

It's common to lose interest in sex from time to time. Stress factors and medication are just a couple of causes we at Lewtress are asked about.

Having a strong libido and sex drive is very healthy. It keeps all the hormones working in sync for a healthier body.

Bombyx daily is a supplement formulated for daily use.

When the libido is boosted daily there can be a great many advantages over just using something as required. Spontaneous arousal can be one of the greatest pleasures for those with a low libido problem. Bombyx Daily Complex may help to reignite those missing spontaneous moments whilst at the same time supporting endurance, energy, concentration and all things men feel good about, including a healthy active prostate.

Optimising your libido not only helps with your physical body but your mind and emotions as well.

An active libido is good for maintaining a sense of energy and wellbeing and helps balance emotional and physical health.

Remember to keep your microbiome healthy as well to support libido and health generally. Lewtress Horny Goat Weed Kombucha or Saw Palmetto with live Bioactive Kombucha culture can help with both Libido and Microbiome health.

No matter what age you are, there are times when life throws you a curveball. Energy and libido levels can falter, or it just isn't there anymore! Bombyx makes it happen.

Lewtress Libido enhancing supplements can:

- * Help boost and maintain a healthy libido
- * Increase sexual performance, staying power and confidence
- * Enhances energy and motivation
- * Enhances concentration
- * Supports prostate health
