Friday 19 December, 2014

- Indie shooter game 'Beyond Flesh and Blood' allows gamers to wield street-sign sized candy canes and escape giant killer snowballs
- Described as 'gory', mixing the horror and sci-fi game genres

MANCHESTER, 2281: The world's first completely Manchester-set game Beyond Flesh and Blood will release a Christmas version of its game demo.

WITH EXPLOSIVE CHRISTMAS PRESENTS and cheerful little Santa hats placed on the hulking MK 1 mech androids – Pixelbomb Games presents you with the ability enjoy the splendor of a traditional Christmas – with an edgy, gory, sci-fi and very Mancunian twist.

Demo version 0.0XMAS – a pre-alpha demo – is available from <http://beyond-xmas.net> and from the Beyond Fleshand Blood IndieDB page, <http://www.indiedb.com/games/beyond-flesh-and-blood/downloads>.

Christmas themed game videos will be available on <http://beyond-xmas.net> from Saturday 20th December and on YouTube in '5 Days of Fleshmas'.

Here at Pixelbomb Games, we have as much Christmas spirit as the 'next' person – but sometimes, the urge to ground pound your enemies at this time of year is too strong to ignore.

The co-lead developers have varying views on this demo.

BREAK THE DEMO

Freeze it! Break it! Stretch graphics that should not be stretched! Pixelbomb Games are looking to gain pre-alpha demo feedback from gamers.

Especially if they can break it, and find the bugs. The team at Pixelbomb Games are looking to do a full launch on Steam with console announcements expected in Q4 2015.

Once again, we cannot say thank you enough to all our supporters... so we thought we'd give something back.

Merry Christmas from Pixelbomb Games!
