

Midlands-based Design Director wins Kitchen Designer of the Year

Tuesday 10 March, 2020

Designers, retailers and industry professionals across the kitchen and bathroom sectors gathered on Monday 2nd March to celebrate the highly acclaimed Kbbreview Retail & Design Awards 2020, commending the very best of talent within the industry.

As a shortlisted designer, Caroline Davies, Design Director of Midlands-based Aristocraft Kitchens and Bedrooms, presented her kitchen design to a panel of judges back in January and was last night announced as the winner of the Kitchen Designer of the Year (£30,000 - £50,000) Award.

"The competition was really tough this year and I was up against some truly talented designers", says Caroline. "To win this award is an amazing achievement, not only for myself but for Aristocraft too. We have a brilliant design team at Aristocraft, and this award is a great platform to showcase the quality of products and workmanship we have to offer."

In addition to Caroline's win, Matt Shaw, Aristocraft's Warehouse Manager won a £1000 donation from AEG in a raffle and will be donating it to the company's chosen charity, The West Midlands Care Team, as Aristocraft continue to embark on their pledge to raise £25,000 for the charity in 2020.
