Now the MiFinity eWallet and all MiFinity payment services will be available to the merchants using Easy Payment Gateway enhancing their payment system.

This is the second key integration announcement for MiFinity in 2019. This initiative is very much in line with the company strategy for 2019 and beyond.

“This is a significant milestone for the MiFinity brand. This is the latest partnership with a leading B2B gateway provider, that will support the launch of its consumer eWallet to multiple brands via the one integration. We are very excited about this partnership and the roll out of our consumer eWallet to these brands over the coming months. Our eWallet functionality will provide additional options to current providers and offer a new customer experience as we continue to grow and increase our market presence. This is another great example of what can be achieved with the right mindset”, said Kieron Nolan, Chief Financial Officer, MiFinity

“We are constantly offering new solutions to our merchants that can provide them with more payment options and more countries to get customers from. MiFinity is a very interesting option that we have wanted to integrate for some time and we finally managed to nail it, this partnership will be excellent for both companies” says Jose Manuel Peral, Chief Operations Officer, Easy Payment Gateway
