MIPIM 2015 Exclusive: Qlik Sense Real Estate App premièred by TopUp Consultants

Monday 2 March, 2015

TopUp Consultants, EMEA's largest and most established Real Estate technology Consultancy, will unveil their Real Insight self-service analytics application that is built on the Qlik Sense platform at MIPIM 2015 in Cannes, France.

Exclusively, MIPIM 2015 participants will be able to interact with Property Investment and Management data on Real Insight, the Qlik Sense Real Estate data visualization app that is optimised for mobility.

TopUp are a Property industry specialist partner of Qlik, a market leader in data discovery who have two products; QlikView and Qlik Sense, both based on an in-memory associative search engine. Their products are renowned for being incredibly easy to use and require minimal training.

Real Insight is a TopUp application built from years of deep industry experience and on the Qlik Sense platform for Real Estate Investors and Property Managers which works across Desktop, Tablet and Smart Phone platforms.

Real Insight uses flexible, interactive visualizations that drive exploration and discovery through intuition from a dataset allowing users to quickly discover insights rather than traditional resource-intensive processes. It broadens knowledge sharing with data storytelling and mobility. Promoting accuracy and reliability through enterprise governance capabilities; it is truly world-class.

Real Insight brings out the business analyst in everyone, taking Real Estate self-service analytics to a new level of power and flexibility, so that businesses are more informed and capable of acting and reacting faster.

Qlik Sense delivers broad value to everyone in an organization, whether working individually or collaborating with local or global teams. With Qlik Sense, users of all types and skill levels get the most flexible, modern solution for self-service data visualization and exploration. And, IT organizations no longer have to trade governance and performance to provide it.
