SERVICEROBOTS.COM LAUNCHES MOBILE ROBOT BAR FOR SPECIAL EVENTS

UK-Based Company's Unique, Compact Technology Fits Into a Van to Enable Easy Transport

UNITED KINGDOM (19 May 2022) – ServiceRobots.com, the UK's leading manufacturer of robotics for events and parties, has launched the first mobile robot bar that can fit into a van. The new product, available now to be rented or purchased for special events, uses the company's Plug and Play system to make any combination of cocktails. With in-person events making a comeback following the COVID-19 pandemic, the mobile robot bar provides organisers with an efficient and cost effective bar solution, whilst also delivering the "wow" factor that guests will enjoy.

From weddings to business conferences, the mobile robot bar is the perfect addition to any special event, and can be easily transported from one location to another due to its compact size. In addition to the mobile bar, ServiceRobots.com offers impressive robots–for rent or for sale–that can carry trays of food, pass out party favours, take attendance, or collect business cards.

"With events becoming more hi-tech than ever before, event organisers are pushing the boundaries to make their event stand out and be seen and talked about," said Tim Warrington from ServiceRobots.com. "We're confident this new product will gain a huge following at events in the months ahead."

As the largest European robotics manufacturer, ServiceRobots.com has an accomplished history of inventing robotics products for events. The company was the first to launch Eva the Photography robot, and the only UK company that sells The Helios UVC robot, which received the 2020 Lloyds Bank Business Award for Best AI.

The robot bar can be rented or purchased for events and parties. To learn more about ServiceRobots.com, visit https://www.servicerobots.com.
