Molly “Meatball” McCann Preps for a UFC Fight Island Face Off and Launch of New CBD Coffee Brand, GWOAT Fuel

Monday 13 July, 2020

The multi-talented, fan favorite, Molly “Meatball” McCann prepares for another win on Fight Island on Wednesday, July 15th, and the successful launch of her new coffee brand, GWOAT Fuel.

July 13, 2020-Abu Dhabi, Yas Island-Coming in at just 5’ 4” and dominating the UFC women’s flyweight division at a 3-1 record, Molly McCann has a reputation to uphold. The fiercely competitive and aggressively early striker has really proven herself in her last few events, winning three fights in a row. This week she has something else to dominate—the coffee business.

Today, Molly is proud to launch her newest venture, GWOAT Fuel, a high-quality, fair trade CBD coffee brand. Born from a love of coffee and an intense desire to crush her competition, Molly “Meatball” McCann got to work with her partners to bring you something that she promises will be like no other CBD coffee you have ever tried before.

When asked about the beginnings of GWOAT Fuel and what incited her decision to craft her own line of coffee, Molly said, "I love coffee, it gets me through the day, so when I started seeing the benefits of CBD, it was an easy decision to make. We started testing CBD coffee's and found our favourite one. We started to work on GWOAT Fuel, and we haven't looked back since."

On the heels of her successful CBD coffee launch comes another event she’s hoping to successfully knock out as well, UFC Fight Night 172 on Fight Island on July 15th. This event will see her face off against Taila Santos, a Dana White’s Contender Series signee.

When asked about the upcoming fight, Molly responded with, "It's an honour and a privilege to be fighting on Fight Island. What the UFC has done is amazing under the current circumstances and I'm so excited to get going and put on a show! It's gonna be special."

Molly comes into this fight averaging 6.49 significant strikes per minute while absorbing 4.95 strikes per minute. She’s also averaging 2.59 successful takedowns every 15 minutes. This event, like the last few, will be held with no fans in attendance in accordance with current global events.
