As a young company with big goals, Monarch Movements recognise that the key to achieving maximum productivity is a good morning routine. The firm frequently host seminars and tutorial to educate their staff and contractors, progressing their business development and helping them to navigate the road to success.

During the hour-long tutorial, Managing Director Damian Crofts outlined 5 key elements to integrate into a morning routine.

1. They maintain a positive mindset

At Monarch Movements, one of the main attributes they look for when seeking new talent is a positive, "can-do" attitude. The firm believes that success starts in the mind of a business person and that a positive mindset attracts positive results. During the tutorial, the firm stated that successful people wake up in a good mood and look forward to starting another day of triumph.

2. They eat a balanced and healthy breakfast

"One thing that is often overlooked when it comes to a good morning routine is a balanced and healthy breakfast," said MD Damian Crofts. In the tutorial, Mr Crofts explained that food needs to be viewed as fuel and without it, someone's mind and body is void of nutrients to power them through the day. The firm stated that successful people don't skip out on a balanced breakfast, they make it a priority.

3. They plan for success

"Successful people don't stumble upon it by accident; any success has been carefully planned and worked towards." Said Mr Crofts. The firm argues that successful people stick strictly to daily habits and rituals, with planning and scheduling being a key part of their day. Mr Crofts stated that successful people have a plan for every minute of their day.

4. Exercise

While the health benefits of exercise are obvious, Monarch Movements believe that a healthy body means a healthy mind. It has been proven that a morning workout boosts brain endorphins leading to a positive mood. Most crucially, exercising before work can boost creativity, energy and productivity as well as lowering stress levels which can only be a good thing.

5. They maintain motivation

Starting the day off right will give people the motivation to stay ahead of the competition claims Monarch Movements. The firm claims that motivation is the driving force of success and that successful people achieve and maintain it to drive them towards their goals.

"Starting the day right is half the battle to a highly successful day." Said Mr Crofts. The firm promotes the philosophy that success is the result of rituals and habits carried out daily. They believe providing people with an outline of a good morning routine, will help to boost productivity and drive the firm towards a big end to the year.
