MYJAR.com provides its customers with service 7 days a week over the phone and by email. Their staff deal with a variety of different enquiries and aim to resolve them with the best outcome at all times.

As a responsible lender, MYJAR sends out SMS and e-mail reminders a few days before payments are due, to remind customers of how much they need to pay and when the repayment needs to be made by. The message also informs the customer of the benefits of paying their loan back early and what to do if they are experiencing difficulties.

Following a co-creation exercise with their customers, MYJAR are now offering loans of up to £3,600, whilst still having the great benefits of being able to pay back early at no extra cost, helping their customers save money.
