Neopost Launches a Total Mailing Solution - Combining New DS-63 Folder Inserter with Output Management Software

Tuesday 7 August, 2012

Neopost, the European leader in mailroom and logistics solutions, is pleased to announce the launch of the “all in one solution” The DS-63 folder inserter + OMS-100 v2(Output Management Software) will help customers to expand and drive their business in an extremely efficient and cost effective way.

The DS-63 has replaced Neopost’s “best-selling” desktop DS-62 that was introduced in 2006. The new design is very easy to use, compact in size with very little noise, making it possible to use it in every work environment.

Together with the OMS-100 v2, it is extremely easy to program all required tasks. The combination DS-63/OMS 100 v2 offers a solution that automatically collates, folds, inserts and seals documents of all sizes. It ensures that correctly filled envelopes are dispatched and that professional document appearance is maintained. Optical marks can be used to automate the folding and inserting of multiple-size, multi-page jobs, adding integrity to ensure the right documents end up in the right envelope. All these jobs can be saved like templates for future use; a clear gain of time and money and a real state-of-the-art document workflow solution.

Henri Dura, Managing Director, Neopost Document Solutions says:

Whatever the application, this solution has been designed on the basis of our customer relations and our efforts to leverage the needs that they express. It is completely reliable to facilitate for companies a flawless process of their documentation, anytime, anywhere. This solution is so easy to use that anyone can do it
