New AI-powered contract review launches in UK — delivering instant checks for small businesses at just £99

Thursday 4 September, 2025

A new online platform has launched in the UK promising to transform how small businesses handle contracts. Quick Legal Check delivers instant, AI-powered contract reviews for a flat fee of £99 — a fraction of the £500–£1500 that solicitors typically charge.

With reports that rising business costs are forcing SMEs to cut back on professional advice, Quick Legal Check offers a fast, affordable solution. Contracts can be uploaded online and reviewed in under two minutes, giving owners the clarity they need to move deals forward without delay.

“Too many small businesses either sign risky contracts without advice, or pay eye-watering legal fees that eat into their margins,” said a Quick Legal Check spokesperson. “We wanted to level the playing field by making contract reviews instant, accessible and transparent. It’s about empowering entrepreneurs to protect their businesses while staying agile.”

The service uses advanced AI technology - but crucially, has been designed by contract specialists with decades of experience in contract reviews. The technology is used to analyse agreements and highlight key risks in plain English. Each review includes a clear summary, identification of critical clauses, and practical recommendations — enabling business owners to make informed decisions immediately.

Quick Legal Check is launching exclusively in the UK, with plans to expand as demand grows.
