New AntiBall™ Football Run game app combines the Beautiful Game with amazing Superpowers

Monday 15 September, 2014

Imagine football hero Marco and his team mates using the power of AntiBall™ to shoot through obstacles, morph, soar and turn invisible.

Gammalot Ltd has launched AntiBall™ Football Run for iOS and Android smartphones and tablets, a game app that can be downloaded from iTunes App Store, Google Play and Amazon Appstore.

Football Run is a brand new, free to play, fun and exciting football action game. Players will join Marco in a thrilling ride as he runs, jumps and slides to the rhythm of the Samba through the Copacabana.

Players can collect crystals along the way to fill the AntiBall™ bar, purchase power-ups and activate them at any time, or earn additional crystals through various mission challenges.

- Beast –unleash Marco's inner beast, both physically and magically. Run faster and stronger through obstacles and shoot fireballs to take down opponents.
- Magnet –switch on Marco's magnetic field and watch those crystals fly towards him. Footballers love to earn their bucks, especially in super quick time.
- Shield– an invisible shield surrounds Marco, ensuring safety from any obstacles, like a team of invisible defenders clearing the way for him to score.

User Feedback:

- Five Stars, iOS User – 'Really enjoyed this game. Quite challenging and definitely worth a download!'
- Five Stars, Android User – 'This is GREAT. My son and I love playing this game together. We compete to see who can get the most crystals. Great family game for guys and their sons'

Football Run has now been downloaded and played in 83 countries and featured on 150 app review sites. We hope you enjoy playing Football Run, and please do tell all your friends and family about this exciting and addictive new football game.

Note to Editors:

Gammalot Ltd is a London-based young app publisher with ambitious plans to develop innovative game apps combining major sports with superpowers and magical skills to dramatically enhance game-play experience.
