MyDigitalTech.com sells refurbished mobile devices and IT equipment

Dumfries, United Kingdom (18th June 2015) – Sims Recycling Solutions, the leading provider of global IT Asset Disposal (ITAD) services has launched an eCommerce site (www.MyDigitalTech.com) selling refurbished mobile devices and IT equipment. MyDigitalTech.com is the retail branch of Sims Recycling Solutions UK.

MyDigitalTech.com sources its refurbished product from Sims Recycling Solutions. Equipment originates from companies and agencies that bought new top-quality stock and kept it well maintained. Units are collected and brought to our asset recovery facility where they are fully processed. Equipment is rigorously tested and thoroughly cleaned, and hard drives are wiped ensuring they no longer contain data from a former user. Finally, as one of the few Microsoft Authorized Refurbishers in the United Kingdom, we install a genuine Windows operating system.

The development of MyDigitalTech.com marks the beginning of a series of innovations that Sims Recycling Solutions will be introducing to the market. Following a period of extensive review and restructure along with the rebranding of the Sims Lifecycle Services and S3 Interactive brands, Sims Recycling Solutions continues to bring best-in-class services and continual improvement to the marketplace.
