NEW & EXCLUSIVE - Cast-Iron Radiators at BestHeating

Friday 24 May, 2019

The UK's leading designer radiator retailer – BestHeating.com – is proud to announce the launch of an exciting new collection of cast-iron radiators from Milano Heating.

Designed to capture the look and feel of original antique radiators, these fabulous cast-iron radiators combine form and function to create a unique focal point in every room.

Perfect for complementing both period properties and modern industrial-inspired homes, classic cast-iron radiators are fantastic features for adding character to your home and retain heat much longer than any other radiator type.

The stunning collection features three exquisite ranges that offer the same quality construction with their own unique character and charm.

Alice – The Original One

Offering the perfect balance of old and new, the Alice range is ideal for those who are new to cast-iron and want to upgrade a standard column radiator to create a feature with a little more flair

Beatrix – The Classy One

Featuring delicate floral etchings, Beatrix cast-iron radiators are truly timeless features that become more than décor but part of your home.

Tamara – The Curvy One

With soft oval shaped columns and classic American styling, Tamara offers a little of all three ranges – perfect if you're torn between styles!

This new collection of cast-iron radiators is sure to enhance BestHeating's extensive product offering and further cement the company's place at the head of the UK home heating market.

Each cast-iron radiator is assembled, pressure tested and finished by hand in the UK - ensuring quality is guaranteed with every purchase.
