New Higher Potency Bombyx Formula - Bombyx ULTRA Complex

Our range of Lewtress Bombyx Supplements for Men's Health has different versions and different strengths suitable for specific individual needs.

Since the pandemic, men's testosterone levels have dropped due to extreme stress which can cause high cortisol levels. Unfortunately, this can naturally lower testosterone production.

New research is emerging suggesting that chronically elevated cortisol levels can produce loss of libido and impotence in men by inhibiting testosterone production.

As a result of this current development, our many loyal customers have asked us for a Bombyx supplement that could help combat the side effects of Cortisol levels becoming imbalanced caused by high-stress levels. With many of our customers asking for help and asking to be involved in the new Bombyx Ultra development testing, their feedback during 2021 was extremely helpful and valuable in formulating Bombyx Ultra Complex.

Our range of Lewtress Bombyx Supplements for Men's Health has different versions and different strengths suitable for specific individual needs. As with all our Bombyx range, there will be one to suit you. Remember we are all physiologically different.

If you have felt your libido flagging, despite trying the usual supplements etc. but just can't understand why, Bombyx Ultra Complex with its more intense effect may just be the right one for you.

Our range of Bombyx Supplements includes:

Bombyx Daily Complex Capsules For Men
