New London-Based Building Company Succeeding in Difficult Housing Market

Tuesday 26 February, 2013

LONDON, February 2013----Makeover Builders, based in Hampstead Heath, is a new design & refurbishment team whose holistic approach is succeeding in a housing market in which well-planned space has become a priority.

According to Nationwide Building Society, adding one more bedroom to a 2-bedroom residence can add 12% to its value, while an additional bathroom can add 6%. Now market-wise homeowners are looking for the complete approach to renovation that Makeover Builders offer, earning the team contracts in high-value areas such as Mayfair, Chelsea, Notting Hill, Belsize Park, Hampstead and Islington.

As even small alterations to a space require more than one field of expertise, the team considers the property as a whole. All projects begin with a detailed personal consultation on client needs and expectations. While each client has the benefit of a single point of contact within the company for questions and feedback.

On major renovations and refurbishments, Makeover Builders work with interior designers and architects from firms such as Eijking Delouwere, winners of the Interior Innovation Award 2012.

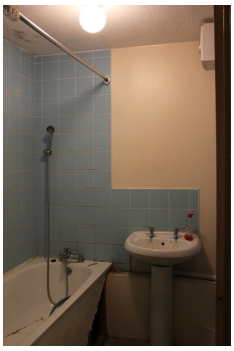

The build team is made up of professional tradesmen vetted by company director Barak Chever, who has over 12 years' experience in the construction industry. Team members include a plumber, carpenter, electrician, master tiler and plasterer; each selected for their client-friendly approach as well as knowledge base.

'Karol is an excellent asset and has a real eye for detail, as if he's working on his own bathroom,' says Stef, a Hampstead-based client. 'Many times he picked up and fixed small things that I wouldn't have noticed until it was too late.'
