

New support for tinnitus sufferers in Southwest thanks to National Lottery funding

Thursday 16 November, 2023

Tinnitus UK have launched a new project to develop tinnitus support groups in the Southwest of England. This exciting new project has been funded by a grant of £169,383 from the National Lottery (Reaching Communities) fund.

It is estimated that over 620,000 people experience tinnitus in the Southwest region alone, and 7.6 million people across the UK - around 1 in 7 adults. Tinnitus is defined as the experience of sounds with no external source, most commonly ringing or buzzing, but sometimes experienced as whooshing, clicking or even music. Many people aren't troubled by sounds they hear, but for around 10%, the condition has a significant impact on their quality of life, often linked to stress, anxiety or sometimes depression.

Maisie Carscadden, Tinnitus UK Interim Head of Services said: "We are looking to engage with local communities in the Southwest to recruit, empower and support people with tinnitus to set up new support groups.

This is in response to a need we identified in the region, which is currently largely isolated from local tinnitus support.

"Being with other people who have tinnitus, listening to their experiences and how they manage it, can be a huge help to people who are struggling with their tinnitus. It is amazing seeing the difference it can make, especially those who have recently been diagnosed.

"Our first task is to recruit a Regional Engagement Officer, who will be based in the Southwest. They will embed themselves within the existing tinnitus community in Dorset, Devon and Cornwall with the aim of significantly improving the support for those living in the region."

Notes to Editors

Tinnitus is the sensation of hearing a sound when there is no external source for that sound. Someone with tinnitus may hear ringing, buzzing, hissing, whistling or other noises. Tinnitus can be there all the time or come and go. The volume of someone's tinnitus can vary from one episode to the next.

Tinnitus comes in many types, but Tinnitus UK is here for everyone living with tinnitus.

We are striving for a world where no one suffers with tinnitus.

That's why we provide free support to anyone with tinnitus or caring for someone with tinnitus.

That's why we are leading the charge for more investment in tinnitus research.
