

New tinnitus support group comes to Wakefield

Tuesday 12 March, 2019

12 March 2019 A new group to support local people with tinnitus is being formed in Wakefield. The first meeting will take place 6.00pm – 8.00pm Friday 5 April, at Asda Wakefield, Asdale Road, Wakefield WF2 7EQ

The group is being organised by volunteers with tinnitus. Siobhan, one of the people behind the group said: "I am setting up the group because there is no support group in Wakefield and I met a number of local sufferers when attending the Bradford group. I myself have suffered from tinnitus since 2009 and know that a support group will be incredibly valuable, especially being able to share experiences including coping strategies and current research into tinnitus."

Colette Bunker, BTA Volunteer and Support Group Manager comments: "Being among people who have tinnitus, listening to their experiences and how they manage it, can be a tremendous help. I witness this first hand when attending group meetings. It is amazing seeing the difference it makes to people, especially those who have recently been diagnosed."

Tinnitus is defined as the experience of sounds with no external source, most commonly ringing or buzzing, but sometimes experienced as whooshing, clicking or even music. Many people aren't troubled by sounds they hear, but for around 10%, the condition has a significant impact on their quality of life, often linked to stress, anxiety or sometimes depression.

Colette adds: "Tinnitus can be an isolating condition, with friends and family struggling to understand how it feels to adapt to the presence of loud or persistent noises. Some people choose to bring a partner or family member to the meetings, which can often help both parties understand more about the condition and the experiences or behaviours it can bring."
