Saturday 30 October, 2021

With world leaders gathering in Glasgow, UK, NewsPlayer+ gives unrivalled access to global perspectives and diverse views on COP26 and climate change.

NewsPlayer+ uniquely brings together 28 live news channels from every continent in one official news focused streaming service, including Al Jazeera, Bloomberg, CNBC Europe, CGTN (China), Euronews, RT (Russia) and Sky News; as well as exclusive channels, which up until now have not been widely accessible across Europe, such as CNA (Singapore), C-SPAN (USA), i24 (Israel), Newsmax (USA), Ticker (Australia) and Times Now (India)

NewsPlayer+ provides viewers with easy, convenient, and reliable access to live news channels across a range of streaming devices, including smart televisions, mobile phones and tablets.

Rich Jacobs, Chief Executive and Co-Founder of parent company Player+ said: "NewsPlayer+ is the perfect platform from which to glean international perspectives on events such as this week's COP26 in Glasgow. It's easy to get caught up in echo chambers. Each channel has its own perspective of global matters, but when you put them side by side you get a much more rounded view of the world."

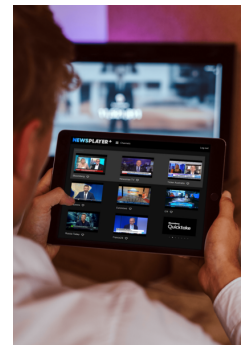

The ultimate destination for the world's leading news channels can be accessed via the NewsPlayer+ app on Amazon Fire TV, Chromecast, Apple Store, Google Play and all browsers at:

Viewers can sign up for a 7-day free trial. Cancel anytime. And if registering during COP26, get 26% off, giving full access to COP26 coverage for as little as £2.45 per month.

NewsPlayer+ can be accessed via the iPhone, iPad, Android, Amazon Fire TV, Chromecast, Apple Store, Google Play and browser at <https://www.newsplayerplus.com> The service is currently available across UK, Europe and Africa, with the service set to expand into North America and Asia Pacific from early 2022.
