Northern Quarter Makers Market Returns to Manchester This May

Manchester's iconic Northern Quarter will once again come alive with creativity and community as the Northern Quarter Makers Market returns on Sunday 10th May, taking over Oak Street from 11am to 5pm.

Set in one of the city's most vibrant and creative neighbourhoods, the market will bring together a fantastic selection of independent traders, offering visitors the chance to discover unique handmade goods, artisan products, and one-of-a-kind finds.

Alongside the shopping experience, visitors can soak up the atmosphere with live music from DJ Charles, providing a lively soundtrack throughout the day. A variety of street food will be available to keep guests fuelled, alongside artisan ice cream from Gingers Comfort Emporium - the perfect sweet treat. For those looking for something extra special, Welded in Wonderland will also be there with their popular permanent jewellery.

Whether you're planning a relaxed browse, meeting friends, or making a full day of it in the city, the Northern Quarter Makers Market offers something for everyone in a buzzing, creative setting.

The event is free to enter, family-friendly, and dog-friendly, making it an accessible and welcoming day out for all.
