October has been an outstanding month for Foxtons as they announce they have won an incredible seven awards at two separate events.

Foxtons was delighted to win six awards at the International Property Awards 2014, which took place in the grand ballroom at the London Marriott Grosvenor House Hotel on Friday 24th October. Sponsored by Rolls-Royce and Gaggenau, the Property Awards attracted entries from hundreds of companies across the UK. At the glittering ceremony, winning entrants were presented with either a 'Highly Commended' or '5-Star' award and Foxtons was delighted to share these accolades across all of the six awards that they entered.

- Five stars, Real Estate Agency: Marketing
- Five stars, Real Estate Agency: Website
- Five stars, Lettings Agency: Surrey
- Highly Commended, Estate Agency: London
- Highly Commended, Lettings Agency, London
- Highly Commended, Estate Agency: Surrey

Adding to this achievement, Foxtons was also named 'Best Company for Real Estate UK' at the prestigious IAIR Awards in Milan.

The IAIR, or Excellence in Global Economy and Sustainability, is a research institute and global independent publishing house headquartered in Milan with a history of publishing quarterly magazines for the world's leading financial institutions and decision-makers concerning economy and sustainability, and has received patronage from the European Commission.

The results were announced at The Stock Exchange in Milan on Friday 10th October 2014 with judges commending Foxtons for "its efficient business model that combines a strong brand, high levels of centralisation, an innovative application of technology and a powerful culture of sales and service."

Nic Budden, Chief Executive Officer at Foxtons says "We are extremely pleased that the hard work and dedication of our employees has been recognised at these prestigious events and this only spurs us on to continue to provide great service and results."
