"I am very excited to be taking on this challenge as another way to give back to the youngest members of our community. I am delighted that many members of my hotel team, our corporate office colleagues and our media partners have embraced the abseiling and we are looking forward to raising a great amount for this fantastic cause" Paul Rogers commented.

Park Plaza Leeds is an active contributor to the community and has a strong Corporate Social Responsibility policy aiming to actively engage and participate in charitable activities throughout the year. As part of 96.3 Radio Aire's Cash for Kids Day the funds raised from this abseil event will be donated to CLIC Sargent, the UK's leading cancer charity for children and young people supporting them and their families. 96.3 Radio Aire's Cash for Kids is part of a network of charities that raises millions of pounds for children in local communities across the UK and this year dedicated the funds to CLIC Sargent.

Stephanie Ledigo, Cash for Kids Charity Manager added "Radio Aire's Cash for Kids is really pleased to be the beneficiary of this thrilling challenge, at one of the top hotels in Leeds. It is really encouraging to see an international organisation such as PPHE Hotel Group, being so committed to supporting charities in the local communities in which it operates.
