Peer Reviewed Paper by Australian Scientist provides evidence that COVID-19 was a Chinese lab developed bioweapon

Friday 20 August, 2021

Adelaide, Australia – For the first time ever, a scientifically peer reviewed paper is being published in an academic journal by a Australian Professor Adrian David Cheok, and a Chinese scientist Dr. Yan Li-Meng, that provides evidence that Covid-19 (Coronavirus) did not come from a natural evolutionary process, but was man made and came from a laboratory in China as a bioweapon.
