

Playboy Model Anastasia Doll Spends £300k On Plastic Surgery During Pandemic But Makes it back via Only Fans account before getting her Instagram Shut Down

Wednesday 24 February, 2021

Famous for her doll-like physique, French-Russian Playboy model Anastasia Doll, who currently resides in London, has shocked fans by spending another whopping £300k on achieving her overly-exaggerated barbie doll looks during the pandemic alone. The model says 2020 was her best year yet, and although she spent a lot on improving her looks, she's made more than double what she spent back already, via her loyal subscribers on Only Fans. Her fan website page is www.anastasiadollfans.com

The model shares very racy photos of herself on her instagram account, and fans go crazy saying it would be their biggest fantasy to meet a real-life doll in person. The model is a very savvy businesswoman who saw the pandemic as an opportunity to monetize her time and her looks. She had time to recover from her surgeries and later had time to create content for her followers on Only Fans. But because of the racy content she posts on instagram to promote her Only Fans account, she has now had her biggest Instagram account @anastasiadollofficial, with over 500k followers shut down. The model worries this will impact her business greatly.

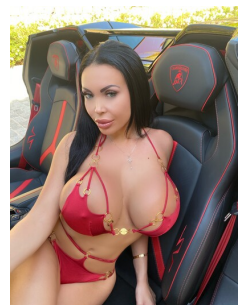

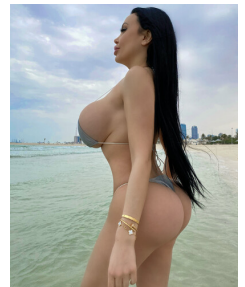

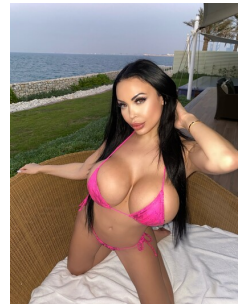

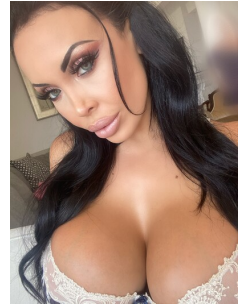

"Haters want to destroy me," said the doll-like bombshell. Instagram has very strict community guidelines about the type of photos being posted on the platform, and the model says she has haters reporting her photos constantly, which has now resulted in her main account being shut down.

"I am determined to get my main instagram account back and for now I've been working with my back-up account @anastasiadoll96 that has over 115k followers. Actually, my engagement on this back-up account is even better than my main one that got shut down," explained the Playboy Model.

So far, Anastasia Doll has had several liposuctions done, has had custom-made 1500cc breast implants and custom-made buttock implants. She has also had her cheekbones done, and five rhinoplasties, in addition to filler and botox all around her face.

"I still want to go bigger on my boobs, my fans have been encouraging me. If I can get 2000cc breast implants, I will make more money on Only Fans," said the Playboy model.
