

Proviation Pilot Shop sheepskin flying jackets raise the bar in aviation leisurewear

Wednesday 15 January, 2014

Classic flying jackets have once again become popular in the UK recently; possibly due to a resurgence of interest in aviation among the general public, and the flying jacket being adopted again by celebrities and personalities.

In some ways, aviation has had a little glimpse of the vintage era once again; with excitement around Boeing and Airbus' new offerings; and companies like British Airways show-casing their latest service offerings with much more 'relevant' advertising, actually based around aviation nostalgia and technological progress.

Proviation Pilot Shop is proud to offer a traditionally-themed, yet modern range of sheepskin flying jackets which captures the excitement of aviation, and the current fashion trends.

Known for quality; Proviation has always set to raise the bar with the quality of products sold; and the flying jacket range is the hallmark of this product superiority.

About Flying Jackets at Proviation Pilot Shop:

Proviation pride themselves on offering a range of stocked, and custom-made flying jackets of exemplary quality. As an aviation pilot shop, you can be sure that the flying clothing is the real deal!

Pride of ownership is our goal with every one of our sheepskin and leather flying jackets. All of these are sourced based on original designs, and are made in the UK and USA in-house by craftsmen, skilled at their work.

Proviation don't rely on production lines, but on carefully crafting each jacket, one-at a time in partnership with our tailors.

A specialist, mainly pilot supplies retailer, Proviation is a small company which cares about the details; qualities borne out in every jacket featured at Proviation.
