

Providing Essential Support for Independent Living

Monday 28 April, 2025

As the UK's ageing population continues to grow, maintaining independence in later life has become a significant priority for older adults and their families. According to the Office for National Statistics (ONS), by 2041, there will be more than 20 million people aged 65 and over in the UK. This increasing number of older adults highlights the growing demand for services that help individuals maintain their independence at home.

Age Concern Hampshire is addressing this need through their Help at Home service, which is designed to support older people in living independently and comfortably in their own homes. The charity's professional and friendly Home Helpers offer tailored support to make everyday tasks more manageable for older individuals.

Research shows that 4.3 million older people in the UK live alone, and many experience challenges in managing daily tasks as they age. For many, staying in their own homes is a top priority. Age Concern Hampshire's Help at Home service ensures that older adults can continue to live in comfort while maintaining a high quality of life.

"Our Home Helpers are passionate about offering tailored support that enables older people to live independently and comfortably in their own homes," said Hannah Park, Head of Operations at Age Concern Hampshire. "Our services are personalised to meet the specific needs of each individual, empowering them to maintain their independence."

The Help at Home service offers a range of support, including help with housework, laundry, shopping, meal preparation, companionship, trips out, dog walking, and more. For further details, or to arrange an assessment call 01962 868545.
