America, Asia, Wales, Scotland, Ireland and England! Team GB athletes ,viral influencers and Middle Eastern royalty are all wear the Trofit brand. But wait!, I hear you ask who is behind the Trofit brand. How did it get so big, so fast? Now this is a rags to riches story if ever there was one. For like most successful business owners out there, there too is a very credit worthy story behind the Trofit brand. One that's inspiring and will have you aspiring to reach business goals of your very own! Syrian refugee, Adam Trafi's story is one of a kind. The guy is comparable to a set of bowling pins. Each time someone takes a shot at him, he bounces back, bigger and stronger than before.

It all began when the owner, Adam Trafi, a Syrian born national found himself and his family displaced from home territory with the conflict in the country. Like many Syrians, with mouths to feed and family to care for. Adam decided the best plan of action would be to take his family to safety. Head out of the war torn country, for pastures new. With his family, a few bags, and the little belongings inside, Adam left Syria for the good old United Kingdom, land of opportunity. Let's face it, those of you that know the UK will also know it's not exactly the success story that many refuges aspire too. You have about a needle in a haystacks chance of getting to where Adam Trafi got with Trophy Fitness clothing today. The guy has done what many cannot manage in a lifetime, and even longer.

Upon arrival at Heathrow UK- Adam and his family were packed into a van to Cardiff. His humble beginnings saw him clean crap from floors, windows. To be precise, his introduction to a career in the UK was not inspirational. Adam has proven time and time again that he's able to adapt to any environment thrown his way. Sadly he did get just that. A whole load of crap thrown at him, regularly.

What did Adam Trafi do in response to this I hear you ask? Turn to alcohol perhaps? Drugs? State benefits? Nope, not Adam Trafi, he went knee deeper. Adam took a plunge and decided to found Trofit, in 2019. Little did he know back then that it will become the world's best and upcoming sports brand that's trending everywhere. Humble Adam, had no experience in the fashion industry. Nor did he he know the UK market or ecommerce trading. He jumped from a bachelors degree in science- to a fully pledged world renowned owner of the sports wear brand Trofit. Adam doesn't believe in jumping to crash safety mats, he took such a risk. That risk paid off, oh so well! He took a small loan, at times didn't even have food to fill his own stomach, slept rough. This guy is a success story if ever there is one! If you want inspiration, Adams story should rewrite, the oxford dictionaries definition of the word. If it doesn't get your adrenaline kicking, sign yourself up for an early grave, or lay off the tramadol!

There you have it Trophy Fitness Clothing founder, Adam Trafi's rags to riches story. A whole lot of success. How did he do it? No one knows the secret. See, if you take a look at the brands products and the girls wearing it you will wonder how they even found out about it, so fast! At times Adam had absolutely no cash in his wallet. He plunged deeper and more daringly into the depths of what could have been bankruptcy. Business men with a fair wedge of savings to back them up couldn't have achieved what he has. Gifting clothes to influencers, their fans were amazed by the style, quality and moreover, the budget price tag that accompanies the Trofit range. The pricing enables you to snap up multiple items without break your bank account. It's exactly what makes the brand the success story it is today. Regular community work, charity events and allowing the customers to be a part of the Trophy Fitness Family. Adams brand, Trofit is a miracle if ever there was one.
