Ramblers Worldwide Holidays – the experts in guided walking adventures across the globe – has been awarded a coveted Bronze award for 'Best 50+ Adventure Travel Provider'.

The awards were announced during London Olympia's recent 50+ Show, Britain's largest exhibition for the active 50's with awards nominated and voted for by members of the public, with results based on rating rather than the greatest number of votes to allow smaller companies to compete on a 'level playing field'.

Kuoni won Gold in the category with Saga winning Silver and RWH winning Bronze.

Commenting on this achievement, Tony Maniscalco, PR Manager for Ramblers Worldwide Holidays said, “This is a great accolade for RWH which has done a great deal to promote healthy, active holidays for all age groups since 1946. We are absolutely delighted to have been recognised as one of the leaders within this field.”
