

Rebit launches Targeted Remittances for its Customers!

Tuesday 3 February, 2015

Rebit, the remittance product of Satoshi Citadel Industries, Inc. (SCI), is launching its new targeted remittance service. Aside from cashing out their bitcoin to be sent to their loved ones, Filipinos overseas can now directly pay for their family's bills and load phones through Bitcoin via Rebit.ph.

With over 91 bills payment options and 5 load providers (Globe, Smart, Sun, Talk n' Text, Red Mobile), Rebit.ph takes over the 'last mile' of paying out your bills so you can now pay your utility, telephone, cable bills or even load your phone online, wherever you are, through Bitcoin.

One of the largest problems overseas Filipino breadwinners face is the possible misuse of funds sent home. An oft-heard story is that of breadwinners constantly sending money home to their families, only to find out that their funds were squandered and used unwisely or for other than their intended purpose. With the launch of targeted remittances, overseas breadwinners are now able to play an active role in their family's finances as their funds are guaranteed directed only towards paying their family's most important expenses.

"The heart of the struggle with Filipino financial freedom has always been reckless spending. Rebit's aim with targeted remittances is to eliminate the worries of our OFWs, who are often more financially literate than their families back home." says John T. Bailon, CEO and Co-Founder of Satoshi Citadel Industries.
