Recarta IT announces the acquisition of Möbius Business Technologies Limited and Mobius Holdings Limited for an undisclosed sum.

Friday 17 May, 2019

The deal represents a major increase in Recarta IT's partnership & capability as well as increasing its Enterprise client base in the UK.

"Over the last 10 years Möbius Business Technologies has built a reputation for providing excellent IT virtualisation and technical support to a host of world leading brands. The acquisition of Möbius Business Technologies enhances our IT infrastructure and managed service capability into new IT Vendor areas such as HP, AWS, Microsoft & Mimecast." said Recarta IT MD, Daren Bland.

"We are excited to join the Recarta family as we combine our enterprise expertise and service capabilities" commented Steve Sexton, MD of Mobius Business Technologies. "This is an excellent fit culturally and builds on the service excellence and customer support which is at the heart of both companies. We look forward to introducing our clients to the additional skills and services that Recarta has to offer, including its Hosted & remote managed services, Software Asset Management and deep IBM technical capabilities."

The acquisition significantly increases Recarta IT's position in the UK IT infrastructure marketplace with over 300 SMB and Enterprise customers under management. Previously known as one of the leading providers of IBM infrastructure support and managed services, Recarta now has senior partner status and technical experience with several other vendor product areas, including Lenovo, HPE, Dell EMC, Microsoft and AWS.

"Recarta IT remains 100% independent and impartial, allowing us to offer IT infrastructure solutions that provide the right products and architecture that meet the needs of our client's short- and long-term requirements. The unison of the Möbius team allows us to offer understanding and access to the entire IT infrastructure marketplace, enabling us to continue to provide the best solutions at the best price." Commented Toby Harris, Recarta Sales Director.
