Roar Ambition support and mentor individual's looking to engage with entrepreneurship through their unique business development opportunity. This accelerated learning program sees young business professionals begin as an entry level sales contractor and with the support and help of Roar Ambition and from continuous self-development, hard work and motivation, they can go on to run their extension of the brand as a successful entrepreneur.

Roar Ambition are such big supporters of entrepreneurship because of the benefits that surround the lifestyle. Here, the firm outlines four reasons why becoming an entrepreneur is beneficial.

1 - The opportunity to control your destiny. Employees are under the supervision of the company and the employer that they work for. The manager can decide to hire or fire and choose the tasks to be completed. In today's economy, people no longer work for years and retire with a full salary pension. Entrepreneurship is the new pension plan.

2 - The freedom to spend time doing what’s important. Entrepreneurship gives someone the ability to balance time. Family and life commitments can be put first because it allows for flexibility. Entrepreneurship means that work can fit into life and not the other way round.

3 - Unlimited earning possibilities. Employees have earning potentials that are set by the job or the pay scale. As an entrepreneur, earnings are not capped, and a self-motivated entrepreneur will have the chance to grow their business and income.

4 - Location independence. There are more than 2.5 billion people online daily, so an entrepreneur can have an unlimited online customer based that is not set in a particular location. An entrepreneur has the freedom to go where they want and still make money.

Roar Ambition is an outsourced sales and marketing firm based in Liverpool.
