Salon Services Announces VAT-Free Week Across the UK & Ireland

Friday 22 November, 2013

Salon Services announced today that it is launching a week-long VAT-free promotion across the UK and Ireland. The promotion will be starting next Monday (25th November) and running until Sunday 1st December. This will give Salon Services customers an entire week to take advantage of the discounts that will be offered.

Salon Services has sent each of its trade customers a VAT-free voucher in the post, which they can use in store to claim the discount. If the voucher is forgotten or lost, customers can still make use of the offer in stores by providing their trade card details. The offer will also be available to trade card customers on the Salon Services' website using the promotional code VAT2 for the UK and VAT2IE for Ireland.

The promotion is being offered to provide Salon Services customers with a wide range of discounted hair and beauty products in the run-up to and over the Christmas period, which can be a busy time for hair and beauty professionals. With many salons taking on additional staff over the festive period, they are sure to benefit from discounted products from the world's leading manufacturers as well as exclusive brands.

Alan Revitt, Commercial and Marketing Director, Salon Services UK & Ireland said, "Our week-long VAT-free promotion was so popular earlier this year that we've decided to run this extended offer again, making it even more accessible for our customers."

"This discount will help professionals make sure that they are well-stocked for over the busy Christmas period," he continued on to say, "In addition, they will be able to offer the latest services and products to their customers."

Salon Services offers a wide range of hair and beauty salon products and equipment to suit all budgets, including many premium brands such as Babyliss, Bellazi, Hi-Brow, REM, Seche, Wahl and Tigi, in addition to its own Salon Services brand.
